NOTES FROM A Jackass

It has been, shall we say, a frustrating few weeks. Three league losses on the bounce. And tonight, where we could be watching the team hoisting the spring trophy, well, we'll just get a game.

I went mildly (to be completely understated) apoplectic last week as I watched the Loons sputter toward entropic heat death in their 1-0 defeat against Rayo OKC. Taken on their own, none of these losses have been horrific. Rayo bunkered and bunkered and took their one moment. A few different bounces and the game could have changed completely. And that's soccer.

So whether my vitriolic rage was completely warranted, I don't know, but the reason I bring it up here is so that we can let it go. The past is the past and tonight is a new chance to shine. It's a perfect chance to pivot toward the fall and start thinking about all the other trophies.

You can see the frustration on the players' faces (well, most of them) and that's the reason I'll wipe my memory of the frustrations and start fresh today.

It's Miami FC, afterall, a bad, bad soccer team. But they are a bad soccer team who haven't lost in their last three matches, including a pretty important match for Indy Eleven. So, let's hope for a rout, but expect a pretty hard-fought match.

With Jeb Brovsky still likely out, this is also our first time to witness Jumpin' Jack Blake (still workshopping nicknames) in action at home. He made his debut in the St. Louis Open Cup match with a goal (including Sheriff of Nottingham celebration). And so far he has proven a solid, if not spectacular addition.

The real question is about the left wing. Will Lance Laing return? Will Pinho play? And if either of them play, will they be part of the high press?

Finally, we'll see you all back up at Nessie for Wednesday's US Open Cup match against Sporting Kansas City. That should be a game for the ages.

Well we beat teams from all places
We'll be scoring goals
While your squad chases our loons in grey
Oh we'll win today Feel those

When we win our games we sing
Oasis
Cause we beat teams from all
places

Wonderwall

Today is gonna be the day
That they're gonna throw it back to you
By now you should've somehow
Realized what you gotta do
I don't believe that anybody
Feels the way I do about you now

Back beat, the word is on the street
That the fire in your heart is out
I'm sure you've heard it all before
But you never really had a doubt
I don't believe that anybody feels
The way I do about you now

And all the roads we have to walk are winding
And all the lights that lead us there are blinding
There are many things that I would Like to say to you
But I don't know how

Because maybe
You're gonna be the one that saves me
And after all
You're my wonderwall

Bird is the Word

A-well-a, everybody's heard about the bird
Bird, bird, bird, b-bird's the word
A-well-a, bird, bird, bird, the bird is the word

United Born

I'm United born,
I'm United bred,
And when I die,
I'm United dead.

HECKLER'S Scouting Report

Starting from scratch with a brand new team offers us the exciting opportunity to discover all sorts of new ways to make fun of a city and a team. But it also means that we're starting from scratch. My first suggestion is that we start with Miami.

Miami, a city whose soccer has more failed franchises than Roy Rogers (it's a real fast food restaurant, look it up). This, of course, is not David Beckham's Miami team. However, I do suggest this song:

You're not Beckham over there.

Simple, elegant, and true.

Alessandro Nesta

Remember Nesta, the legendary defender? Well, it turns out he is not a very good manager. His Miami FC have won exactly one match in their existence. I'll be Nesta thinks every day about subbing himself in.

Richie Ryan

Only a few weeks ago Miami broke the intra-league transfer fee record by signing holding midfielder Richie Ryan from Jacksonville for $750k. It gives me particular joy knowing that our website Fifty-Five.One broke the news.

The Babes

The other bizarre story out of Miami this season was their sexist marketing campaign. That and their lack of fans, but of course the two are related. Earlier in the season, Miami posted a series of videos and photos featuring young women and phrases like "Join these babes on Saturday!" It was icky as all hell.

The Dark Clouds are supporters of Minnesota United. You are welcome to join us. Our community is anti-homophobic, anti-sexist, and just generally anti-bigotry altogether. We stand and sing as a group and we're happy to say that our group includes all sorts of awesome people: gay, straight, punk, square accountants, nose-pickers, and everything else. We also don't welcome cursing, not because we're prudes, but because we think it's lame. Anyone can yell abusive crap at a player. Try being clever. That takes work.
